EXPERTISE

Procurement Advisory

OCM provides procurement support across all facets of the end-to-end procurement and contract lifecycle. We offer a range of services including procurement consulting, contracting, and procurement outsourcing solutions.

Infrastructure

Infrastructure is key to a more sustainable, vibrant, and functional society. Whether we are supporting the planning, procuring, or operating/disposing of an infrastructure asset, we help clients deliver projects that best manage project risk, budget, and timeline while achieving long-term benefits.

Commercial Advisory

Organisations today are under increased pressure to deliver improved commercial outcomes. OCM's team can lead or support you through the process of business case development, commercial model development, complex negotiations, and commercial contract management.

Transformation and Change

We partner with clients embarking on Procurement and Supply Chain transformation programs. Our services include supporting clients across all major transformation themes, including design, systemisation, cultural uplift, risk management, and structural changes.

Supply Chain Excellence

Being on-time and effective is no longer enough. OCM collaborates with organisations to build speed, agility, adaptability, and resilience into their supply chain design. Achieving Supply Chain excellence involves harmonising across the four key dimensions of People, Process, Data and Technology.

Technology

To thrive in the future, procurement need to harness technology to become more agile, improve business partnering, and data driven decisions. OCM is helping organisations implement new solutions and get best use out of existing procurement and supply chain digital tools.

Ethical Supply Chain

Organisations, communities, families, and individuals all benefit from ethical supply chains. OCM Ethical Supply Chain Advisory services supports organisations as they seek to achieve the highest standards in relations to labour, human rights, environment, and circular economy.

Training

Leveraging the experience of the OCM Training team, we provide a wide range of procurement and supply chain training courses and solutions.

The difference is our people.
